BRITISH REPLY TO MILLERAND'S NOTE
DELIVERED IN PARIS

PREMIER REFUSES TO MAKE PUBLIC CON-TENTS OF MESSAGE FROM LONDON.

DANGER RELIEVED

France Promises to Take No
Further Independent Action.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, April 12.—The Earl of Derby, British ambassador to France, delivered to Premier Millerand this afternoon the British reply to the French premier's note of last evening.

Millerand refused to discuss the contents of the note with the newspaper correspondents.

Immediately after the receipt of the note Millerand held a few minutes' conversation with chiefs of the foreign office then left to call upon President Deschanel.

Nothing for publication could be given out for publication before the premier's return from his visit to the president.

The opinion was expressed freely that the incident was in a fair way of being settled and that the note just delivered would prove to be the next to the last in the rapid fire exchange of the past few days. Premier Millerand's reply, which probably will go forward this evening, will be the sixth note transmitted to the governments in three days time.

FRANCE TO TAKE NO MORE INDEPENDENT ACTION

London, April 12.—The latest French note on the subject of the French occupation move, received here this morning, says that the French troops in Frankfurt and other occupied cities will be withdrawn immediately upon the withdrawal of the German troops from France. It is stated, that no further independent action will be taken by France.

The text of the note, which was handed to the Earl of Derby, British ambassador at Paris, yesterday evening for transmission here, has not been made public. It is couched in conciliatory terms and should tend largely to alleviate the gravity of the situation.

Dangers Are Dispelled.

The solidarity of the entente is emphasized in the French communication. In British official circles it was believed today that all the dangers with which the situation was fraught had definitely been dispelled.

Up to noon Sunday there had been undisciplined nervousness here over last week's cross channel exchanges. The formal French reply was received at the foreign office here at 1 o'clock this morning. It was discussed at a cabinet meeting in Downing street at which Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader, and representative of Premier Lloyd George during the latter's absence from London, presided.

Open Shop Formally Declared
by Contractors—Some Work Resumed, Report.

Formal breaking of relations between Janesville building contractors and unionized craftsmen was consummated at 5 p. m. Saturday, the time designated by the Janesville Builders' Exchange in its communications to the Federated Trades Council. Other shops as the result of the wage basis controversy.

There was little deviation today from conditions existing since April 1 when the strike of the building trades unions began. A few contractors reported a small number of union carpenters and masons having returned to work this morning. Otherwise the big jobs were practically at a standstill as during the past two weeks.

Scouts Are Out

Among the unions the only activity was evidenced in the use of scouts to determine what jobs and what men were active and where. Picketing had not commenced during the early afternoon. It is a possibility, however.

Union agents, aroused by rumor that 40 scouts had arrived in the city this morning, started investigation but later reported the statement unfounded.

Builder Makes Statement

Conciliation of $45,000.00 in building contracts in five adjacent streets gives Janesville assurance of plenty of workmen for its summer building program, according to a member of the Builders' Exchange.

FRENCH PREMIER
TO AVOID ALLIES

Millerand Objects to Council's Discussion of British Split.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, April 12.—Millerand has as yet been decided as to Premier Millerand's attendance at the supreme council meeting at San Remo. It was declared today in a reliable source that if the conference there was to discuss the misunderstanding between France and Great Britain he would not attend.

Will Not See Lloyd George

A personal talk on the subject with Premier Lloyd George would be held by the French premier if Lloyd George could find it convenient to come to Paris, but it is considered in official circles that the meeting would be a waste of time. The French premier is expected to discuss it with the representative of the other powers.

Premier Millerand's reply to the latest British note has not yet been made public, but it is declared to be a change in the situation. It expresses regret that there has been occasion for any controversy, but it points out that if Lloyd George could find it convenient to come to Paris, but it is considered in official circles that the meeting would be a waste of time.

Faithful to Allies

The note assures Great Britain that France is faithfully to remain faithful to the alliance, but it intimates that the government cannot promise to abstain from defending the interests of the republic in a few days, but without prospect of senate debate before next week.

Cincinnati's Steel Is

The great shaft was first suspended in an upright furnace until heated to just below the melting point. A crane then picked it up and dropped it into a huge vat of oil where it boiled and spluttered, throwing out clouds of oil mist.

RAY OF HOPE SEEN

Situation Is Still Grave but Crisis Nearly Passed Is Belief.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, April 12.—New York was back against the wall, struggling desperately today to free itself from the tentacles of octopus-like epidemic of unauthorized railway strikes.

Out of the maze of conflicting reports of new strikes called and others threatened—railroad officials professed to see a ray of hope because some passenger service had been maintained and food and milk trains managed to creep into the city. It was admitted by railroad officers that the situation still was grave but they assumed the optimistic attitude that if they weathered the strike, the situation would soon approach the normal.

Sunday Lull Is Aid

The lull in business activities over Sunday gave the roads a breathing spell in which to marshal their forces in handling the tide of commuters sweeping into the metropolis. Under normal conditions 70,000 persons come to this city each day.

With the Hudson tubes still by the strike, the burden of handling New Jersey commuters fell upon the ferries plying the Hudson. The ferry service was handicapped to some extent by the strike.

At least some Milwaukee switchmen composing 3 p. m. crews were going to work this afternoon.

Meeting Sunday Night.

There was a meeting for all railroad men in the city tonight. It presented a collection of ramifications on par with the situation today. Everything from the co-operative strike and notices to the railroad.

Can't Reach Work

Thousands of persons were unable to reach their places of business until hours after the usual time while other thousands gave up the struggle and remained at home. Freight traffic over all lines entering Manhattan was irregular.

The Chicago Express on the Erie railroad, which was abandoned yesterday at Port Jervis, N. Y., while members of the crew attended a meeting of the new union, arrived in New York this morning more than 10 hours late.

Rail Employees Meet

Various organizations of railroad employees held a meeting here and in New Jersey during the morning to discuss whether they would join the strike.

Rail Men Here Puzzled
Over Strike Situation;
Call Meeting Tonight

The railroad strike hit Janesville strike and Janesville yard conditions at midnight last night and today it had its place on the impromptu program.

The latter two were really analogous. The bone of contention was the Northwestern's routing freight through Janesville, shipments over which the Chicago men were striking.

The procedure on the part of the railroad was necessitated when tie-ups occurred at Butler street and Proviso.

Janesville yardmen were compelled to handle this freight and the question arose over the possibility of a refusal to do so. Wier heads prevailed and the matter became lost in other business.

Second Conference Called

The meeting was the result of an eleven hour call, bulletins announcing a meeting at 10 o'clock at the switch shanties until too late to assure its complete success. Nevertheless there was a large turnout but not so many as to give encouragement with the result that a second conference of all railroad employees is listed again for tonight, in Eagles' hall.

Agent Fred Zimmerman of the Milwaukee system reported the arrival of a number of cars of merchandise and perishables from Milwaukee. Otherwise, he said, conditions are the same as Saturday.

Situation Is Brighter.

According to reports received from Chicago by Alva Hemmings, today was the brightest for the Northwestern since its men joined the ranks of the "insurgent" union. A general walkout which originated on the Milwaukee. Five cars of perishables and merchandise arrived here from Chicago.

Two Trains Cut

Curtailed of passenger train service on the General Point division of the Milwaukee road to be effective tomorrow, on the Plattville-Clarendon and the Broadhead-New Glarus branches was announced today. The evening train on the former line is discontinued and the morning train on the other. These were mixed passenger and freight runs.

Railroad Entering Chicago
Lifts Freight Embargo,

(Bulletin)

Chicago, April 12.—Striking rail workers in the Chicago district must return to work or consider their positions vacated and hunt employment elsewhere, District Attorney Charles Clyne told leaders today.

The government demands that the trains run and will assist the roads in filling the places of men who fail to return to work, the district attorney is said to have told the strike leaders.

(BULLETIN)

Chicago, April 12.—New York and the east became the railroad strike center of the nation today.

With the strength of the "outlaw" unions waning in the central states and in the far west, fresh additions to their ranks along the eastern seaboard threatened complete paralysis of passenger traffic as well as freight.

At least one line—the Central railroad of New Jersey—has cancelled all passenger schedules, while others including the Pennsylvania system, have been forced to withdraw trains.

From Pittsburgh west, the strikers have made no gains of importance during the past 48 hours and have in fact, lost strength in many centers.

The first break in the switchmen's strike in the Chicago district was recorded this morning when the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy lifted all embargo orders after announcing that sufficient had returned to work to keep all traffic moving.

Conditions on other roads were improved today, railroad and brotherhood officials said. The Illinois Central handled 30 freight trains during the past 24 hours, 75 percent of the normal movement.

DEVELOPMENTS WEST OF PITTSBURGH HOW DISRUPTION OF STRIKE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, April 12.—Developments west of Pittsburgh in the switchmen's unauthorized strike today were regarded by railroad brotherhood officials as pointing toward a general dissolution of the insurgent forces, but in the east where the wait was joined in several districts by trainmen, the situation assumed a more serious aspect.

In the central and far west, numerous reports of defections from the strikers' ranks followed the report of the first important break at Columbus, Ohio, where 600 switchmen voted.

Insurgents Demand Recognition

At Chicago, admitted keystone of the walkout, railroad officials presented terms of settlement of the strike, which include recognition of the new union formed by westerners from the Brotherhood of Railway trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

In the settlement offer, proffered by John Crozier, president of the Chicago yardmen's association, who

MOEHLNPAH GIVES NOTE OF WARNING

Danger of Higher Living Costs if Farm Production is Cut as Appears Likely.

Henry A. Moehlenpah, of Clinton, Wis., member of the federal reserve board and former president of the Wisconsin state bankers association, has sounded a note of warning of the further increase in the high cost of living.

His attention to a decreased production of foodstuffs, which is in prospect this year, Mr. Moehlenpah asserted in a statement made at a luncheon at the Wisconsin state bankers association. He said that "money and credits should be mobilized and swung to the weak end of the economic program and put behind the farmer."

Labor Situation Acute
"If the city man expects to escape a further increase in the high cost of living he will have to get behind the farmer and supply the money and credit required to produce the things needed to feed and clothe the world," said Mr. Moehlenpah. "At no time has the world been far removed from famine. But today conditions are grave. Indications are that the grain acreage this year will be smaller than for many years. The farm labor situation is acute throughout the country. Many farmers in the west, south and middle west are seeding down their corn land to hay, because they can't get the market with less labor than corn."

Pasturage Is Poor
"Investigations made by the New York state agricultural college and the United States bureau of crop estimates show that the number of acres of pasturage in the United States in 1919, and the same date in 1920, while the number of hired men employed on the farms decreased 7 percent, the number of acres of pasturage probably would be as large if not larger in the western states."

Many reports indicate that crop conditions are below normal in many districts. Reports from the western district indicate that pasturage is in relatively poor condition. The southwest reports a decrease in acreage of winter wheat of at least 10 percent, as compared with 1919. In the irrigated sections of the west winter wheat is reported about 30 percent of normal. In the St. Louis district much winter wheat has been killed by alternate freezing and thawing. In Oklahoma the crop of winter wheat is estimated at about 55 percent of normal.

Should Buck Farmer
"The situation in Europe is not such as to warrant the expectation that there will be an early return to normal production of food crops. Any considerable shortage in our crops of the world will mean hardship the world over during the coming winter."

"Money and credits should be mobilized and swung to the weakest place in our whole economic program and put behind the farmer in sufficient amount as to give him the work to make it possible for him to make good on the task we have laid upon him."

Our government through the operation of the federal land banks and the joint stock land banks can do much by way of extending credit for long time at low rates. But it remains for the country banker to use these long time credit facilities of the government so that he may always have ready and ample funds with which to meet the short time credit demands of the farmer and

Among the gifts received by the library during the past month, "The World's Best History" will probably be of special interest to those interested in history. It is in 23 volumes and is said to be one of the most authentic histories of the world that can be obtained. It was donated by Mrs. E. Blair, 202 South Main street.
The library is also indebted to Mrs. Blair for another set of books,
"Crowned Masterpieces of Literature," in 10 volumes. Twenty-six volumes of "The Novels of Cooper" were donated by Mrs. Amelia Koeesters. Another book, "The Drawings of Frederick Remington" was donated by her.

Of special interest among the new books added during March is "The Economic Consequences of Peace."
It is well-handled by John Maynard Keynes.
Other new books that have been put on the shelves are "Cutting the Cost of Stenographic Service," Carnegie Standard Steel Specifications,
"Essentials of Americanization," by Stephen S. Bogardus; "Our America," by W. D. Frank; "The Art of Letter Writing," by Nathaniel Clarke Fowler; "Self Instruction Drawings of Frederick Remington"
by Frederick Remington.

A great number of new books on house planning have also been added.
Books, fiction and otherwise, which have been ordered for a long time, have not yet arrived because of the freight tie-up in New York.

AT DANGER POINT.
REV. LEWIS URGES

Practical and concrete principals of religion were contained yesterday in the message delivered by the Rev.
Lewis U. Peterson to his congregation at Cargill Memorial Methodist Episcopal church. It was a commonplace plea, possible of deduction to even youth, but strong and forceful enough to make one think of more worldly ways.

"Passing Danger Point" was Rev.
Lewis' subject. Briefly he treated of that station in the life of every man wherein the call of the material surpasses that of the spiritual. From there he began the battle against either salvation or damnation, he said.

Ap. oral pictures and contrasts vividly illustrated his sermon.
"We preachers," he said, "have the hobby of calling attention to some particular and great conversion, to the turning from the ways of a man sunk low in the depths. But such instances are not for the lives of all of us. Some men are more fortunate.
You and I and everyone must make our preparation now. God will not always be available at our beck and call. We cannot all hope for the conversion of a Billy Sunday. His was exceptional just as there are more cases of this nature. He had reached his turning point. And he turned the right path."

Next Sunday the Rev. Lewis will speak on the subject: "Five Reasons Why Methodists Do Not Dance."

Heads Schools

FRANK HOLT

Here is the newly elected head of Janesville's public educational system, who takes office Saturday to succeed H. H. Faust. Mr.
Holt comes from Edgerton where he has had nine highly successful years as secretary-trent of the Tobacco city schools.
He is a former Janesville boy, a graduate of the local high school, Milwaukee normal and of the state university and has taken summer courses in a number of universities.

18 ARE RECEIVED
AS MEMBERS OF
FEDERATED CHURCH

A class of 18 young people was received into membership of the Federated church at the morning service yesterday. Fourteen were taken into congregational membership and four into the Presbyterian church. Six were given the ordinate of baptism.

New members are Mary Helen Fellows, Helen Louise McNaught,
Marjorie Lorretta Waacher, Ruth Ada
Grady, Helen Irving Mayhew, Gladya Townsend Virgina, Dorothy Florence Palmer, Ellen Bernice Gibson, Emily Sheldon, John Sheldon, Sel. M. Hopper, Royal John Hagan-nin, Lowell J. Loyth, Franklin Wilcox, Alma Katherine Helldade, Jessie Olive Johnson, Leland Thomas
Pruitt, and Parker Harry Putnam.

The sermon preached by Rev. J.
A. Melrose was on "Planting and Cultivating," and was directly concerned with the spiritual nature of the young people as a preparation for being received into the church. He emphasized four things as being absolutely necessary as corner stones of their faith:

First: a definite decision to make a consecration of life to Christ and a mustering of all forces to see it through; second: each one to have a definite prayer life, that he may have a re-birth of vision by coming face to face with Christ; third: every Christian should have a definite habit of reading some part of the bible each day, that he may receive inspiration regularly; the same as food; fourth: that they should attend church regularly, that they may accept its responsibility and receive its help in the great social agency of the world.

By request, the choir sang one of the Easter anthems, "Resurrection," by Vynal, in which Mrs. Stewart Richards gave the solo. In the other anthem Miss Margaret McCulloch and Miss Irene Lewis sang solos.

SUNDAY'S WEATHER
AGAIN HITS STYLISH:
BAD WEATHER ENROUTE

Downcast skies and a drizzle of rain yesterday morning again postponed the postponed "parade" of a week ago. It was a second case of bureau drawers and clothes closets for Easter finery.

Maybe they can wear them next Sunday.

However, the elongated session of Mister Winter was again in evidence this morning with a light fall of snow. Old Sol showed the covering when once on the job but Mr. Winter promises to continue several days similar to this morning.

A western storm is moving eastward and considerable snow is reported to have fallen in the middle plain states. The storm is rather severe, but seemed to have lost some of its energy during Sunday. It was due to move east-northeastward over the middle states today.

Shifting gales and possibilities of a heavy snow are predicted for southern Wisconsin.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman 25 years old. My husband is 21 years my senior. We have been married three years and I don't love him. Life is just a misery with him and he says he doesn't love me. I wish he had never seen me. I want to work and buy myself some decent clothes, but he won't let me. I was outraged to marry a man nearer my own age and a misunderstanding arose between us and our engagement was broken. I don't love this man, I've passed as strangers and never speak and haven't for three years. I am miserable for days after I see him to see what a fool I was to marry a man I didn't love. I would love to work and then the time would pass more quickly. We haven't any children. His wages are barely sufficient to get what we eat and pay our debts. Neither of us have decent things to wear. I think I ought to work anyway, whether he wants me to or not. It is only jealousy that he doesn't want me to go where any one will see me.

I admire your husband for not wanting you to work. It is pride rather than jealousy which makes him feel that way. I don't know. Your only course seems to be divorce. This is not fair to your husband, but since you cannot love him it is useless for you to try to live with him; you cheapen yourself and make his life unhappy. Since you have no children your problem is easier because you will only hurt one by leaving.

It is a pitiful thing when either a girl or man enters into a marriage without love. It is the lowest kind of cheating. Be honest to your husband now and ask for your release.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 17 years old. I don't love my young man who is rather tough and my parents won't consent to my marrying him. He is all the world to me. I have known him since I was a young man, but refuse because I do not enjoy their company. I can't get him out of my mind.

Don't tell me it isn't true love, for it is. It seems as if my heart would break. Please tell me what to do. A DROOPING FLOWER.

Yaseline is one of the best hair growers, and will help to get rid of dandruff.

It depends on the dryness of the scalp how often the yaseline should be applied. Once or twice a week, however, should be enough.

Make a part straight from the front to the back of the head and rub the yaseline in thoroughly. Be careful not to let it get on the hair itself. When you have finished that part of the scalp, make another part, and continue thus until you have massaged the whole head.

ORGANDY TRIMS CHALLIS FROCK FOR SUMMER FAD

Is your seamstress coming next week and are you worrying because you "just haven't" an idea for your new summer frock? It is hard to think up some style which will be becoming and modish and practical all at the same time.

Don't already thought of it try combining your new silk or satin material with organdy. You will be smart and summery and stylish all at once. And if you have the good fortune to possess some pretty little challis material be sure to trim it with organdy for summer wear.

Here is a very simple and fetching model which will make an excellent pattern for the home dressmaker and nothing could be more attractive.

Navy blue challis is made into a one-piece frock with a long, wide collar and a full skirt. The collar is made of the same material as the skirt and is finished with a wide band of white organdy. The skirt is also finished with a wide band of white organdy.

The large shawl collar, the deep cuffs and the huge sash of crisp organdy set off the frock and give it a very smart and stylish appearance.

Inserts of Indian crocheted lace trim the organdy and the whole makes a very pleasing study in blue and white. This style might be made up in any number of plain colored materials which would be charming with the white trimming.

AUTOBABY OGRAPHY—IS THE RIT!
If I live to be eight years old I'll never forget the melancholy day when mother announced to dad that tomorrow a certain despot would be 10 months old.

"What a good time to wean him," I had just finished my dinner and lay dozing in my crib, but something about that word alarmed me. What did he mean, wean him? A baby's life is certainly full of adventures. Something new all the time. But I was so drowsy I couldn't stay awake long enough to learn what a sad fate was in store for me on the morrow.

I learned next day, all right. My 10 o'clock dinner time was over and mammy did not. Instead she busied herself putting milk in a bottle, which she presently brought to me.

Of course I had taken milk from the bottle regularly. But milk was a different proposition. I tried it and it tasted funny. I pushed it away and demanded my regular milk. What was the thing doing. I could take that milk for nothing. I made considerable noise about it and resorted to every expedient to gain mother's sympathy, but to no avail. I had a Hobson's choice of milk from the bottle or fasting. In the end I chose the milk. And I was so hungry from hungering and crying about it that as soon as I had emptied the bottle I went right to sleep and took my regular afternoon nap just as though I had enjoyed my regular luncheon at Old Doctor Nature's Quicklunch.

If I harbored any hope that this was a temporary experiment and hope was dashed the following day, for instead of submitting the bottle for one regular meal mother gave me a bottle of milk. And I was so hungry from hungering and crying about it that as soon as I had emptied the bottle I went right to sleep and took my regular afternoon nap just as though I had enjoyed my regular luncheon at Old Doctor Nature's Quicklunch.

The third day, alas, I had to accept three bottle feedings in lieu of square meals, and so on day after day until about a week, when I realized that informal dinners were but a memory for me and my future was to be just one blamed bottle after another.

The old Quicklunch was now closest. Dr. Nature got out of business. He had gone quietly. There was no message, no campaign, no interference whatever. The place was just closed and let strictly alone. Mother wore a comfortable supporting bandage and took some six or eight months. Otherwise no attention was paid to the breasts and there was no trouble whatever.

I soon grew accustomed to the new fare and acquired an actual liking for it. Compared with the lot of the neighbor's kid mine was very good. But poor kid had to take a bottle from the beginning and I must tell you how they managed it over there.

For a hand-raised baby I must admit my little neighbor is a fairly presentable specimen. Dad says she's a perfect product of scientific feeding. I'll say she looks good to me.

QUESTIONS
Higher Education.
Our high school is so constructed that pupils in going from one grade to another have to climb 400 steps in the course of the day. Several women have been injured by the health began when they were in this high school. Please tell me whether the stair climbing is harmful for a healthy normal girl. (Mrs. C. O. S.)

ANSWER—No. It is rather beneficial. I don't state it as a fact, but I have known several girls who have been injured by the stair climbing. I don't state it as a fact, but I have known several girls who have been injured by the stair climbing.

Henry Treatment and the Co.
Kindly tell me whether these "beauty treatment" machines, which are used to massage the face and neck, are really beneficial to the health. I was told that the make-up closes the pores of the face, stopping free circulation, hence the increase in consumption. (E.)

ANSWER—Some cosmetics contain lead, some contain mercury. These would be dangerous to the health. The make-up has no positive effect on the health, though I think it has a harmful effect on the skin. It makes the woman contented with her appearance whereas without the make-up she would be dissatisfied. By taking care of her hygiene and personal health, the "pores" have nothing to do with the circulation.

There was a needle stick stuck in one of the nightgowns, just where Aunt Cecelia had it. I actually hugged and kissed it. I was quite envious, but then there's nothing to be proud of. I find that my education has been neglected. I can't sew.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Lady Frances Evelyn Warwick, the Countess of Warwick, who is now running on the Labor party ticket in Walthamstow for election as the second woman member of the commons, is elected to carry on the lower house as a strong supporter against the title system. Although the countess is a beneficiary of the system she deplores the fact that it exists.

The countess has very advanced ideas and will undoubtedly introduce very progressive legislation if she is elected. She is much opposed to the holding of vast estates by the titled few. It is such a novel idea for one of the nobility to hold that it will interest many people. Just what action the countess will take if she is elected.

THE SUFFRAGE SITUATION
Mississippi—Despite all of the urgent requests sent to Speaker Cannon and the house managers by the democratic leaders Mississippi again refused to ratify the suffrage amendment. Leading democrats all over the country were anxious to have Mississippi, a democratic state, enfranchise the women of the nation before the republican legislature of another state could act.

Delaware—Indignation prevailed among anti-suffrage leaders at the delay in action in the Delaware legislature.

Connecticut—If the stubborn governor of Connecticut thinks his action will defeat the suffrage amendment he may be greatly surprised. Mrs. Carry Chapman Catt, president of the National Suffrage association, threatened an old law among the Connecticut statutes which gives the legislature power to call a special session without the consent and request of the governor. She would like to see the legislature act on the other hopes fail it is the opinion of

TO CAN MEAT
By Boiling—Sterilize glass jars, preferably with glass tops. When cooled put a teaspoon of salt in bottom pack as full of meat as possible. A rib or marrow bone in each can adds to the flavor. Put on lids with out rubbers and screw or clamp down.

Put in boiler on a rack with water within an inch of tops of the cans and boil two and one-half hours. Remove from boiler and put on rubbers. Replace, boil an hour longer. If you have extra good rubbers you will need three hours boiling, but I find this way safest. If any rubber proves defective, the can must be boiled again with new rubber. Any old bottomed pan or kettle can be used.

DISCOVERIES
"Paint-up" Helps—As it is the time of year to brighten up with paint and varnish and many have laid their brushes away, which have become hard and dry. By boiling in kerosene they will rub away and clean with kerosene or turpentine.

When paint has dried on windows it may be successfully removed by applying a paste made with baking soda and water, as hot as can be conveniently used.

Save Your Discarded Combs for cleaning your carpet sweeper and suction brushes. Run the comb around the brush and up and down and you will have a nice clean brush.

To Keep a Drawer which holds wax papers and wrappers in order, catch the papers with clothes pins.

For wilted vegetables, if your grocer sends vegetables that have been in the store too long and have become wilted, they may be freshened by adding the juice of a lemon to a pan of cold water. Let the vegetables stand in it for half an hour and they will be as fresh as when first gathered.

Eggs in Nests—Eggs in nests are a little more trouble, but are very appetizing. Boil a nice clean brush for the Easter breakfast.

Separate eggs and beat the whites till stiff and dry. Have ready slices of warm, lightly browned two tablespoons of the beaten egg white on each, in the center carefully place a yolk. Season and put in a hot oven to become a delicate brown.

to be sewn with fingers that tremble with joy, and fastened with ribbons of rosy hue, symbolic of my happiness. Away with the dark thoughts of the past, away with everything but dreams of love and delight. Besides, it's—why, it's not a bit chic—this pattern any more!

Right there and then we planned the feminine heart can desire. I quite forgot about my own creations in the pleasure of thinking of hers.

It is difficult to realize that I am 14 years younger than she, when I listen to her discuss her future. Aunt Cecelia is very interesting, very important about life and men. I am not. I face the most brutal facts bravely, where she covers them up with green and camouflage till I could weep for her.

Girls now-a-days are seasoned young things. Shockingly so. Now I speak of my bright white with the nonchalance and aplomb of a woman who has lived to wear several. Something is wrong with either Aunt Cecelia's point of view, or mine, without a doubt.

I explained to her, with a giggle, that possibly I was the reincarnation of some of those famous women of history who had been much married; hence my savoir-faire about it all.

Possibly, however, I blame Balzac for my sophistication. His books are a liberal education.

GREEN JADE LEADS IN JEWELRY FASHIONS
Chicago—Spring styles in jewelry on display in the showrooms are different from those of last year. Green is represented in jade is the leading color. Last year red was the predominating note.

Bead necklaces have a touch of the Oriental in them. Round beads and odd shapes are being shown. Some of the necklaces are all beads and some of beads and links. The beads are larger than formerly and sometimes are set with stones such as pearls, emeralds, garnets and sapphires.

Barrings that are being shown are mostly of long Egyptian type, some of which seem like weights because of a large artificial pearl or fancy jade bead hanging from a smaller chain.

Flexible bracelets are made of sterling silver and set with crystals. In some of the bracelets, the crystals are combined with other stones, such as onyx, emeralds and sapphires.

Large onyx centers with surrounding clusters of crystals are among the novelties.

WHOS WHO in the Day's News

ESTELLE V. COLLIER
Woman suffrage in Utah has practical value, as was attested in the recent appointment of Mrs. Estelle V. Collier as collector of customs in Salt Lake City, her native place. Mrs. Collier's interest in public affairs dates from the period of suffrage agitation in which she was a prominent figure. Her activity in club and political work began six years ago, for which she found ample time even while rearing a family of four children. For the last four years she has been chairman of the women's state democratic committee.

Her husband is a mining engineer and two of her sons were trained in that profession. At the beginning of the war they enlisted and were both assigned for two years in France with that company.

Her appointment to the post of collector of customs is generally considered a triumph for the City, doubt that she will efficiently discharge the duties of that office.

17-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS SEEKING TO ANNUL MARRIAGE
La Crosse—Blair Dennon, 17 years old, is suing for an annulment of her marriage on the claim that the consent of her parents was not obtained. Her marriage was there fore illegal. The husband, who was a soldier and also a minor, left immediately after the ceremony last October for Fort Travis, Texas, where he is now stationed.

Superior—Burglars secured $1,000 worth of clothing when they broke into the store of Andrew Ekstrom. They pointed their way through four doors before the main floor of the store was reached and carried away their haul in a truck.

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago, April 12.—New upturns took place today in the price of corn. The market was characterized by a scarcity of receipts and so the prospect that demoralized traffic would be maintained for the present at least. May delivery was especially active and the bulk of the business went into the July option. Initial prices, which ranged from 75¢ to 85¢ higher, with May 85¢ to 86¢ and July 81¢ to 82¢, were followed by material gains all around.

On the other hand, wheat was active and higher. After opening 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ up, including July at 87¢, the market set continued strong, but a slight reaction from the opening top figures. Provisions reflected the grain advance. Demand, however, was rather slow.

A temporary sharp setback resulted from commission house selling based to a considerable extent on options that the butchered and the grain market had been broken. The close was nervous at the same as Saturday's, but the lower with May 81¢ to 82¢, and July 76¢ to 77¢.

Tricky Bear and Willy Deer
And the Memory-Man said:
When the world was young, the management of the animals in the aquels country was given to Tcharshikwagon. He gave the animals their names and told them what work to do. At the same time he was careful to see that some of the animals should make good food for

The Bear said he was going to teach his children to run fast, that they could not catch them. So Tehar-diawagon stuffed the Bear's legs with all of fat, and made his feet flat. But this was a trick on the part of the Bear, for he knew his strength lay in a blow with his paw.

The Deer said he would teach his children to bite any Indian who mistreated them. So Teharonhaweagwon insisted the teeth out of Deer's upper jaw, rendered his bite harmless. But now his was a wife on the part of the bear, for he knew his cleverness lay in his swiftly running legs. That is why now Bear and Deer escape from the hunter.

Judge people by what they are, not what they say they are.—R.W.

HOME CRAFT WEEK

The Big National Event

Monday, April 12th to Saturday, April 17th

This week Home-Lovers from coast to coast are planning to make their homes more attractive, more distinctly American—and the war taught us that throughout the world the American home stands out beyond competition. April 12 to 17th is then your week, Madam. And for your convenience we are displaying the newest styles in window drapery treatments, since in most of your rooms it is the window that is the center of your decorative thought. Moreover, we have gathered for you the finest collection of materials from which to make your selection.

Whether you are considering new draperies or not, we invite you to come in and see our Home Craft Week display.

Quaker Casement Craft Lace Quaker Sectional Craft Lace

The use of Casement Craft Lace introduces personality into the Casement cloth type of window treatment by providing a means of expressing your individuality through the right selection of designs, at the yard.....45c to $1.25

Made for your windows—the exact length—the exact width. Hangs straight from the top with a handsome lower border and a dainty tracery of birds or flowers or vine spreading on up the curtain, growing lighter toward the top and finally lost in the delicate filet mesh; at the yard.....65c to $1.95

For the Windows of "Colonial" Rooms

Many artistic homemakers select a Filet Net of suitable pattern for the windows of colonial rooms. The lace is either hung flat or if tied back is fitted with a ruffle of plain Filet Net. Colonial patterns of Quaker Craft Lace in Filet Net grounds, at the yard.....59c to $2.50

Amerex Net

Your personality finds expression only through the medium of design, whether that design be expressed in color or in outline. The fact that in Amerex Net the design is emphasized by the extreme transparency of the fabric makes it the most individual type of window lace; at the yard.....$1.25 to $2.25

Lace Day-Shade

The ideal Spring Curtain—This is one of the newest and, many insist, the most practical way of hanging window lace. It can be drawn for privacy and for decorative effect during the day. It can be raised when the windows are open to prevent the lace from being soiled and let in every fragrant breath of cool, fresh air. We invite you to see the display of Lace Day Shades, during Home Craft Week.

Orinoka Guaranteed Sunfast Draperies and Upholsteries

Make your home cozy and cheerful by allowing plenty of sunshine into the rooms. You can do this with Orinoka Sunfast Draperies without fear of their fading. Guaranteed to be absolutely fadeless. We will be glad to show you our attractive assortment of designs, weaves and colors. Priced at the yard.....$1.35 to $5.95
